

Modern Star Margarita at Stampede 66. Photo by Kevin Marple.

EAT THIS NOW!

8 Tableside Dishes to Order in Dallas

It's like dinner and a show.

BY LAUREN SEIP | PUBLISHED IN FOOD & DRINK | APRIL 12, 2018 | 11:40 AM

Who says you need magic tricks or glitzy salsa dancers to enjoy dinner and a show? From prickly pear margaritas that are frozen with liquid nitrogen tableside, to “flaming pasta,” Dallas really knows how to bring inextinguishable flare to your table.

Mi Dia From Scratch

Extreme guacamole

It's no secret that Texans worship their guacamole, that's why Mi Dia is amping up the guac-game. Made from scratch at the table, the harmonious blend of avocados, freshly squeezed lime juice, Serrano peppers, sun-dried tomatoes, and cilantro, is sprinkled with smoked Applewood smoked bacon. Try it for yourself.